Dear Sirs,

permit us to send herewith enclosed an advance copy of our "January-Offer". This offer contains a great number of new acquisitions which have not yet been offered to you. The greatest part of the books described in this offer originates from the library of a well known Italian anatomist, Jacopo Rezia, a personal friend to Spallanzani, whose library we have purchased. Our prices are really extremely reduced, as a short examination will convince you, and strictly net. However, if you will kindly see your way, to give a large order, we are ready to allow an extra discount of 10 %. -----

Looking forward to the pleasure of hearing from you,
we remain, dear Sirs,

Yours faithfully

R. Lier

1. Albertus Magnus. De secretis mulierum; item de virtutibus herbarum, lapidum et animalium, etc. - Michael Scotus. De secretis naturae sive physionomia. 358 pp., 7 leaves. With nice, engraved title. 16mo. Old vellum. Amsterdam, 1648. Dollars 5.75
Autograph inscription by Pierre van Mussenbroeck on the first leaf.
2. Albinus, B. S. Historia musculorum hominis. 696 pp. With 8 copper-plates. Large 4to. Original vellum. Leyde, 1734. $ 8.75
First edition. Choulant-Frank, p. 280: "The plates represent the hand of a man of particularly beautiful build, in life size, with all muscles, tendons, ligaments and bones".
3. Baillou (Ballonius), G. de. Epidemiorum et ephemeridum libri duo. 10 leaves, 273 pp., 9 leaves. Vignette on title. Paris, 1640.
Baillou. Definitionum medicarum liber. 10 leaves, 108 pp., 4 leaves. Paris, 1640.
Baillou. In libellum Theophrastus de vertigine commentarius. 2 leaves, 41 pp., 1 leaf. Paris, 1640.
Baillou. De convulsionibus libellus, in quo explicatur, cur sauciatas dextram capitis parte convulsio sanae partis continget. 8 leaves, 51 pp., 2 leaves. Paris, 1640.
Four different works together (three of which first editions). 4to. Boards. $ 9.75
1) First edition of the first work of Baillou. "Baillou is regarded by Crookhank as 'the first epidemiologist of modern times'. Two books on epidemics and ephemeral diseases, with case-histories and post-mortem (the present first edition, 1640), which revive the old Hippocratic doctrine of epidemic constitutions, i.e. the external influences at work in the causation and spread of epidemics, foreshadowing much that was afterwards taught by Sydenham" (Garrison).
3) and 4): First editions of both works. - Baillou's Epidemiorum libri contains a very important chapter on whooping cough, "Summer Constitution, Anno Domini 1578", translated by Ruhraeh, Pediatric Biographies, pp. 60-62, with reproduction of the title of the first edition which we offer here.

4. Basiliius Valentinus. Azoth, ou le moyen de faire l'or caché des philosophes. Revue et augmenté par Mr. L'Agneau. - Basilius Valentinus. Les douze clefs de philosophie de frère Basile Valentin. Suivies du colloque de l'esprit de mercure à frère Albert. - Bernardus Trevisanus. Traicté de la nature de l'oeuf des philosophes. The three works in one volume. 176 pp., pp. 3 - 196, 64 pp. With woodcut on title (Senior and Adelpus, with the tree of metals) and 14 curious woodcuts. With frontispiece and 12 copper-engravings on extra plates, engraved by Gobille. Small 8vo. Vellum. Paris, 1659. $ 28.00

The copy here offered has the advantage of uniting the two rare works of Basiliius Valentinus and another similar work by Bernardus Trevisanus. Besides we emphasize that this copy has the special feature of having the figures illustrating the "12 clefs" on extra plates, a rare fact for any edition of this book. - A few water-stains. - Very rare, especially with the added copper-plates.

5. Bichat, M. Fr. X. Traité d'anatomie descriptive. 5 vols. 32 pp., 464 pp., 4 pp., 624 pp., 28 pp., 461 pp., 24 pp., 496 pp., 8 pp., 476 pp. 8vo. Original wrappers. Paris, 1801-03. $ 12.50

First edition of one of the most important works of Bichat, "the creator of descriptive anatomy". This work "opened out an entirely new field for anatomists, that of detailed description of the parts and tissues of the body in health and disease (Garrison)."

6. Boerhaave, H. Elementa chemiae. Two vols. 4 leaves, 499 pp., 4 leaves, 331 pp. With 17 copperplates and 17 explanatory tables. 4to. Calf. Venice, 1749. $ 10.00

"Easily the best book on the subject all through the 18th century" (Garrison).

7. Bordeu, Th. de. Recherches anatomiques sur les glands, leur position et leur action. Chilificationis historia primum edita Mons-pelii, 1742. 24, 520 and 86 pp., 1 leaf. 8vo. Original calf. Paris, 1751. $ 8.50

First edition. "Bordeu first stated the doctrine that not only each gland, but each organ of the body, is the workshop of a specific substance or secretion, which passes into the blood, and upon these the integration of the body as a whole depends" (Garrison).

8. Capivacci, H. Nova methodus medendi. 1 leaf, 126 leaves. Small 8vo. Modern half vellum. Frankfurt, 1593. $ 3.75

9. Cardanus, H. De libris propriis. Somniorum synesiorum, omnis generis insomnia explicantes libri quatuor. De curationibus admirandis. De gemmis et coloribus. Etc. Etc. Two parts. 22 leaves, 278 pp., 18 leaves, 414 pp. 4to. Calf. Basel, 1562. $ 11.00

Caillet I, 2025. First edition of one of Cardanus' most interesting works. The 'De libris propriis' contains an interesting mention of Vesalius.

10. (Cardanus). - Scaliger, J. C. Exotericarum exercitationum liber quintus decimus, de subtilitate. 8 leaves, 897 pp., 37 leaves. With several woodcuts in the text. 8vo. Old vellum. Lyons, 1615. $ 3.75

Extensive commentary on Cardanus' celebrated book.

11. Casseri, G. De vocis auditusque organis historia anatomica. Two parts in one volume. 30 leaves, 191 pp., 126 pp., 1 leaf. With magnificent historiated frontispiece showing many skeletons, ornaments, etc., two excellent portraits of the Duke Ranutius Farnese and the author, and 33 splendid copper-plates (22 dealing with vocal organs, 11 with the ear). Large folio. Vellum. Ferrara, V. Baldinus, 1601-1600. $ 105.00

Complete copies as ours, with the portraits and all plates are of particular rarity. A standard work in the history of anatomy.

12. C e l s u s. De re medica libri octo. Acc. commentarii H. Thriveri, et Balduini Ronsset enarrationes. 12 leaves, 752 pp., 8 leaves. With a few surgical woodcuts. 4to. Modern boards, Leyden, "Ex officina Plantiniana", 1592. § 9.00
Choulant, p. 170: "Valuable edition, based on the Pinziana, Caesariana and Pantiniana". - Printed by the famous Plantin-press. Browned on account of the quality of paper. - Uncommon edition.
13. B r o m f i e l d, William. Ad lithotomiam attinentes aliaque monumenta chirurgiae. - C o c c h i, A. De usu artis anatomicae oratio. 86 pp., 1 leaf. With double-page plate(surgical instruments). Small 4to. Original boards. Florence, 1761. § 7.50
Bromfield(1712-1792)was a well-known surgeon at the Hospital of St. George and Lukas at London. His treatise on lithotomy is published here apparently the first time. - Cocchi, a very esteemed Italian anatomist, was in friendship with Newton, Mead, etc. Very fine copy.
14. (Ear). C o m p a r e t t i, A. Observationes anatomicae de aure interna comparata. 56 and 396 pp., 2 leaves. With three copper-plates showing the anatomy of the ear. 4to. Original boards. Padova, 1789 § 12.75

 Engraved frontispiece showing a dissection, 1 leaf, 18 leaves, 484 pp., 14 leaves, 120 pp., 12 explanatory tables. With 24 anatomical folding plates. 8vo. Vellum. Frankfurt, 1677. § 14.00
 This edition is very esteemed for its fine illustrations. "Riolan made any additions to anatomical knowledge, thus he gave a good description of the mesentery, he described the appendices epilpoicae, he improved the knowledge of the spermatic vessels, and discovered the embryonic gill slits"(Singer). - Some short margins.
57. (A s t h m a). - R y a n, M. Observations on the history and cure of the asthma; in which the propriety of using the cold bath in that disorder is fully considered. 12 and 227 pp. 8vo. Wrappers. London, 1793. § 7.50
 We only mention: "The lower order of people and artisans most liable to the asthma; application of cold; species of nervous asthma; reme-di anatomia. With fine large portrait of Carcano Leone. 84 pp. Wrappers. 8vo. Milano, 1813. § 11.00

 A very interesting study by Scarpa on Carcano Leone, an eminent Italian anatomist of the 16th century, whose works are only little known on account of their rarity. Leone (born in 1536) was pupil of Falloppius and later professor of anatomy at Pavia. From his works we mention: "De cordis vasorum in foetu unione, 1574"; De musculis palpebrarum oculorum motibus inservientibus, 1574"; etc. etc.
